I use Excel quite a bit but had never used the handy way to grab data from a table on the internet (no need to do it though as you can go to his website and get the data quicker and free). It also shows the "RANK" and especially useful (in many area, not just fantasy football) "VLOOKUP" function.As far as fantasy football goes it has some handy advice and shows how to rank players based on prior years AND giving more weight to more recent years.I would recommend this book and checking out John
