Yvan Rodic : Facehunter before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Facehunter:

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. OK book By Aldo Flores Lots of images from the street, not bad but can be disappointing if you are expecting this book to be like a glossy magazine. These are just normal people trying to do their best effort not to be confused with someone who dresses in GAP all week. The photography doesn't make much effort to be anything, it's quite normal, don't expect Yvan Rodic to follow the steps of Jurguen Teller, Terry Richardson, The Cobra Snake or Merlin Bronques. No out of focus background, no flash, no funny angles. If you are not sure about this one, just stick to the blog, for some reason the images look better in the screen than printed. I thought I would never say that. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Three Stars By Ben Hendel-Doyingthe photos were excellent. the writing... less so... 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great book. By Jennifer N. Overhoff Love the pics. Great overview of the work of this blogger, A must for any fashionista. I collect books and while small this book is one of faves to peruse.

This book collects the best photographs from Facehunter.com, one of the fashion world's most visited street style blogs. Yvan Rodic, the photographer behind Facehunter.com, has compiled in this book his images that show his unerring sensibility for street style. He has traveled to nearly thirty countries, capturing real people, whose clothes reflect the incredible diversity of the world's cities. Character and charisma are what he prizes people who wear their clothes with confidence. The result is a contemporary portfolio of what's chic on the street, and an insightful predictor of what will be chic on the runway. Whether you're fashion forward, backward, or sideways, you'll find something inspiring in this radical, personal, and unpredictable book of street style around the world.

From the Inside Flap This book collects the best photographs from Facehunter.com, one of the fashion world's most visited street style blogs. About the Author YVAN RODIC began his career in advertising before starting one of the most innovative fashion blogs. He currently contributes to a variety of international fashion and lifestyle magazines, including Tokion (Japan), GQ (France), Cover (Denmark), and Modette (Sweden).
