One more volume in this excellent Assouline series. They just seem to get better and better!!! I think they should do a Rome one, and a Barcelona one, and also a Honolulu one!!! These little books are jam packed with lots of wonderful photos and information. They are printed on high quality paper.1 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Two StarsBy Caroline WaltonPoor photography and not much in the way of history or about local non-celebrities. Quite disappointing

For over twenty-five years, Homera Sahni has been traveling to Gstaad, where she has enjoyed the village both as a glamorous international destination and as farming community deeply rooted in nature. It was from these transformative experiences that she was inspired to curate a book that would capture the insiders experience of Gstaad. She lives in London.Mandolyna Theodoracopulos started her career as a writer for Hamptons magazine in 1997. She has written for Gstaad Life magazine and is the editor of the popular website Takis Magazine. Mandolyna is also a full-time interior designer. She lives in London and Gstaad. Taki Theodoropoulos has written the High Life column in Londons Spectator for over forty years. His books include Nothing to Declare, Princes, Playboys High-Class Tarts, and The Greek Upheaval. He is an exGreek Davis Cup tennis player, an exGreek karate champion and world champion in Judo 70 and over. He lives in Gstaad and New York.
