David Bird, Martin Hoffman : Inspired Cardplay (Master Bridge Series) before purchasing it in order to gage

whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Inspired Cardplay (Master Bridge Series):

If you ever sit by the elbow of a famous player, you will be surprised by many of the plays. What is going on in the great player's mind? In this exciting new book by Britain's top bridge writer, David Bird, and the world-renowned professional player, Martin Hoffman, you will find out! Twelve important areas of cardplay have been chosen, involving both declarer play and defence. For those not in the know, the various plays appear to be inspired. They are in fact the result of cold hard logic. Learn the correct thought processes yourself and - whatever your aspirations may be - your cardplay will improve significantly.
