Donatella Sartorio : Italian Portraits before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Italian Portraits:

0 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Beautiful and exquisite Italian fashions!!By alo lipioNo wonder it is Italy that has always led the fashion world, just take a look at this book and you will definitely know why!!2 of 5 people found the following review helpful. Italian portraitsBy JOHN R VBALVOVery weak expected an explosion of styles seems all they want to push are driving moccasins. Very disappointing and very overpriced

An elegant and original photo book illustrating once again the excellence of products made in Italy. A follow up to Italian Touch produced with Tods in 2009 and distributed with great success all over the world the autumn of 2012 will see the publication of a new volume: a gallery of images of Italian men of different ages and origins with a shared passion for elegance and the highest quality. Some thirty men, including a writer, jeweller, a painter, a philanthropist, a journalist, and an aristocrat, are photographed in their chosen settings: the home, the office, the garden or the city. Their lifestyles, born out of a natural flair for combining elegance and quality, are encapsulated in images and short quotes. Their beauty is in the expression of ideas and traditions a language capable of conveying the culture that represents the true excellence of products made in Italy. An inspired and entertaining book to accompany the launch of next seasons male fashion, supported once again by Tods with a major communications campaign. For lovers of photography and fashion, and for all those who purchased Italian Touch.

About the Author Donatella Sartorio is a journalist, writer and great lover of fashion. She has written for numerous magazines such as Vogue Italia and Donna and has published the books Hogan Future Roots (2012) and Italian Touch (2009) for Skira.
