able to learn their lines and create the scenery for this play very quickly. The "Star Wars" twist gave it a timely interest for both our troupe and audience. The script contains a comic element for all age groups. The additional resources that Colonel Dowell has available are invaluable. It was a joy to produce this project. Hilarious! L. Henry Dowell's humor is at its best with Snow White and the Seven Dwarves of the Old Republic. I have done this play twice with my 4th and 5th grade students and have had nothing but positive comments from students, parents, and other teachers. Kids are drawn in by the assumed familiarity of the story, and their attention never wavers as it becomes clear that this is NOT the Snow White story that they all know and love! There are plenty of moments that adults will find highly amusing as well, but for reasons that will go right over the heads of most children (read the scenes with "Prince"). Dowell's humor is quirky, intelligent, and will appeal to a wide audience.

By CRCI haven't saw this on stage but it was a great play to read, so many funny new twists on a classic fairytale.

"May the Dwarf be with you!" A wacky take on the classic fairy tale which will have audiences rolling in the floor with laughter! What happens when you mix an articulate mirror, a conceited Queen, a Prince dressed in purple, seven little people with personality issues, a basket of kumquats and a little Star Wars for good measure? Snow White and the Seven Dwarves of the Old Republic! This play was first produced in 2007 and since then has gone on to be one of the most produced works for young audiences in the United States. It's the perfect show for Elementary Schools and Community Theatres. Cast Size: 12. Running Time: 45 Minutes.
