the following review helpful. I liked it, but...By CustomerMet him in Vegas - of course he's a flirty old man! Anyway, I did not finish the book because I got bored. Interesting, but not interesting enough to keep my attention to the end.

Dave Ulliott has taken the poker world by storm. A world-class competitor, he's one of the most feared players on the burgeoning global poker circuit. Tagged "The Devil Fish," Ulliott was a petty criminal at 16 a safe-cracker who spent his 21st birthday in prison. After becoming a pawnbroker, he turned his gambling hobby into a hugely lucrative career. Ulliott was the first British player to win a $500,000 poker tournament in the U.S., the first player to win the Late Night Poker series on Britain's Channel 4, and is now the face of Ultimatebet.com, one of poker's biggest online sites. This record is an insider's account of the amazing world of professional poker, revealing, for the first time, the extraordinary stories of the world's top players. A must-read for anyone interested in the astonishing growth of professional poker, from yesterday's illegal back-street games to the television and cyberspace phenomenon of today.

About the AuthorDes Wilson is Britain's best-known campaigner with a track record equal to anyone in the world. He began his campaigning career as the first director of Shelter, and built it into one of the country's most effective campaigning charities. In the 1980's he became a major figure in the environmental movement, as ITN environmentalist of the decade. He is now Director of Public Affairs with Burson-Marsteller, the world's largest public relations consultancy.
