found the following review helpful. i fell off my chair laughingBy Anthony Korfmanwhat a book. after reading it i called my priest. i needed an exorcism. my kids dont want me tyo get one. they enjoy watching my head revolve around. if you play poker this is a must read. if you dont like the book it makes a great icescraper or wheel block. people have been known to fall asleep during sex after reading chapter 5. i know i did.0 of 5 people found the following review helpful. Profane, vile, boring, worthlessBy J. HuntingtonTen years as an enthusiastic customer - the first time I've returned anything. A total failure with nothing interesting or worthwhile. Absolute garbage!

Texas Holdem is being played 24 hours a day worldwide. Tournaments and high stakes cash games are played on TV constantly. The author not only takes you into the major Las Vegas strip casinos he has played at, but also provides laugh-out-loud situations that have had the poker pros that have read the book immediately seek therapy. The author blends strategy with his humor and says, if you don't like the book, it makes an excellent ice scraper or wheel block when you park on a steep hill.

About the AuthorTony Korfman was born in New York, though he says he was raised in San Francisco by a family of seagulls. Korfman plays a lot of tournament Texas Holdem and cash games and has been featured on the Ultimate Poker Challenge television program. He recently came in second out of 1,830 players at the World Series of Poker Senior Tournament. His humor at the poker table has made him legendary.
